

As a resident of Indiana who has been very, very pleased with our state's telemarketing "no call" law, it is my hope that the FCC will extend these benefits to the entire nation, but leave in place the right of any state to adopt more stringent "no call" regulations. It is an invasion of privacy to get nuisance telemarketing calls, and I am glad that Indiana has given me the right to be on a list of people that telemarketers are prohibited from calling.
